Tips to Stay Safe

Running Away:

- In nonabusive situations, wait a few hours. Things often seem better after you give it some time. In abusive situations, call the police or the Crisis Center.
- Talk to someone about your problems. They can often give you objective feedback and help you think more clearly.

Reduce the Risk of Sexual Assault:

- Trust your instincts if the situation does not feel right.
- If someone ignores your "No," this person is pressuring you to do something you don't want to do. You need to get away.

Socialize Safely:

- Drinking and other drug use can make it harder to get out of a dangerous situation.
- Always go with a friend instead of going alone.
